Stroll away from amenities

Traditional Spanish property situated in the large market town of Albox which offers all necessary amenities.

On the ground floor there is a cosy living room with a traditional fireplace and air conditioning, two double bedrooms, dining room which could be another bedroom if necessary, and a family bathroom. On the first floor there are two bedrooms and access out to a huge roof terrace with outstanding views over the town and surrounding mountain ranges.

There is a second door on the outside which opens into what could be another property. This is currently used as a second kitchen but could be converted into a separate apartment or used to create more space for the main house.

Situated within a short walk from all amenities! This would make an ideal first home in Spain!
