Very large property for sale in Almeria set on an urban plot in a lovely location.

This property was built as a warehouse but has since then being partly renovated to be used as a home.

The property could easily be converted into a large 5+ bedroomed village house. It is set on a large 2,000m² urban plot which means you can build more buildings, a swimming pool and a garage for example. All of these licenses will be granted as it is set on an urban plot.

The property is located in a well sized village where all necessary amenities are available such as schools, supermarkets, bar / restaurants, farmacs etc.

This is a very unusual opportunity, for that reason viewings are highly recommended.
